MAD DEN PLAN O. K. TO FORD
MEXICAN TROOPS TO CROSS AMERICAN SOILSTOCKHOLDERS OF
T. V. BANK MEETING

First Business Session
Held in Home Office
Just Before Noon

INSTITUTION IN FINE CONDITION

Banquet Is Enjoyed at Noon at The Lyons
Restaurant

Following their usual custom the stockholders and directors of the Tennessee Valley bank, an institution having branch banks in 16 cities in the Tennessee Valley, with deposits of over $4,000,000 met here today, the birthday of Robert E. Lee.

The gathering was saddened on account of the recent death of Mrs. R. W. Hendrix, the mother of Clyde Hendrix, the president of the entire system of banks. Mr. Hendrix was in Florence attending the funeral services for his mother on Saturday.

The stockholders' meeting, which convened in the Tennessee Valley bank building on Bank street at 11:30 o'clock adjourned near 1 o'clock in the afternoon, all present going to the Lyons restaurant where a dinner was served.

The stockholders' meeting was presided over by Hon. S. A. Lynne, chairman of the board of directors. After transacting the routine business common to such annual gatherings, the directors were elected as follows:

B. N. Bibb, W. R. Bonds, W. M. Buchanan, G. F. Craig, F. G. Cook, W. A. Dearing, Lee F. Dodd, R. A. Duncan, E. D. Fennel, W. W. Fussell, J. L. Erey, W. A. Given, Clyde Hendrix, O. C. Hackworth, D. W. Irwin, Claud King, R. B. LeMay, J. B. Lagomarsino, D. H. Long, S. A. Lynne, J. E. Orman, Philip Olin, A. G. Patterson, J. W. Payne, F. H. Pointer, J. F. Proctor, A. F. Rehman, C. M. Rousseau, H. R. Speake, P. B. Timberlake, R. H. Tweedy, J. C. White, W. T. Williams, G. D. Williamson.

The directors met following the dinner at the Lyons restaurant and after reports were made, all of which showed the affairs of the bank to be in excellent condition a dividend was declared and officers were elected for the entire system.

The following stockholders and guests were present at the banquet: W. A. Givens, S. A. Lynne, G. D. Williamson, J. B. Lagomarsino, Sheffield, J. C. White, J. A. Thomson, J. W. Clifton, W. W. Fussell, J. E. Orman, Russellville, J. F. Craig, Town Creek, O. P. Eggleston, Courtland, P. B. Timberlake, Stevenson, B. N. Bibb, Belle Mina, A. F. Redmond, Courtland, W. H. Aycock, L. F. TWO MADISON MEN
KILLED IN WRECK

(Associated Press)
HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Jan. 19—Two persons were killed and a third injured today when an automobile in which they were riding was struck at a grade crossing by an N. C. and St. L. passenger train at Mercury, six miles north of Huntsville.

The dead are: Roy H. Woody, farmer, of Big Cove; John Daniel, a negro farm tenant of Woody. Kibbie Daniel, negro, was badly bruised, the car was demolished and thrown about 30 feet ahead of the train. Woody was driving at the time.

TROTSKY AND LENINE BOTH ILL

Nikolai Lenin and Leon Trotsky

Leon Trotsky, Russian Soviet Commissar for War, is suffering so intensely head and throat ailments that his physicians have temporarily ordered him to relinquish his duties entirely. Nikolai Lenin, only man who possesses a greater power in Russia than Trotsky, is seriously ill. He has not been able to perform his duties as Premier for more than a year.

SHENANDOAH WILL
MAP POLAR REGION

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19—The prime purpose of the Shenandoah's proposed polar flight, Secretary Denby told the house naval committee today is exploration in the Arctic with a view of annexing land in that area to the United States.

The mere fact "that there is an unexplored area of 1,000,000 square miles adjacent to the United States," said Mr. Denby, "constitutes a constant challenge to the United States. We cannot permit that vast territory to fall into the hands of another power."

"If we do not make this flight this summer, the entire arctic region will be photographed and mapped by another power within a year."

"We are not trying to discover the north pole. We don't question the feat of Perry, another American. We want to explore and the Shenandoah is admirably fitted to the purpose."

Several Homes Are Robbed by Negro

Warning against a negro, who is said to have entered several homes and taken articles from them, was issued today by J. A. Thornhill, prominent local real estate dealer. Mr. Thornhill stated that the negro entered his home and escaped with an overcoat and that he had received reports of other activities of the black.

The method of operation is said to be very simple. The negro evidently watches homes during the day, and when he sees the residents leave, he tries the front door. If found unlocked, he calmly walks in and helps himself.

Edwards Resigns as a County Registrar

Announcement was made by officials at the Morgan County court house this morning that Samuel A. Edwards, of Hartselle, has asked Governor W. W. Brandon to relieve him of his present duties as one of the registrars of the county. Mr. Edwards is reported to have telegraphed his resignation to the Governor. Friends of Mr. Edwards stated he had recently become ill while traveling throughout the county in the discharge of his duties as registrar. The other two registrars of the county are Messrs. Bean and Blackwell.

CONDITIONS GOOD
FINANCIER STATES

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 19—Declaring that industrial and financial conditions in the United States were in a most flourishing condition, Jerome Hanauer, of Kuhn, Loeb, and company who was a passenger on the Komatze, leaving for Europe today, said all indications pointed to a steadily growing prosperity without the symptoms of a boom or any dangerous inflation.

"Money is becoming easier," he said, "and new issues of securities are unusually small, so that sound investment securities give much promise of advancing."

Bermuda Will Be
Sowed by the Club

A few more days of dry weather insures the breaking of a large part of the soil at the Valley Country Club, preparatory to sowing of grass seed to furnish a good sod for the golf links. One of the two tractors to be used in plowing the club farm is already fitted up and ready to start, while the other has been shipped.

The plowing would have begun some weeks ago but for the severe weather and heavy rains.

Already a goodly part of the farm is covered with Bermuda grass, and the plan is to sow Bermuda grass where it is needed. It was pointed out by Charles Rountree, president of the Valley Country Club that if the Bermuda grass got beyond control, the soil of the farm was such as would produce almost any of the other standard sod grasses.

Old Nebraska Bank
Closes Its Doors

(Associated Press)

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Jan. 19—The Grand Island bank, oldest banking institution in the city, failed to open its doors this morning. Its capital stock was $100,000 with a surplus of $125,000. The closing is attributed to "frozen paper."

Henry Nebrig, Dave Seibert and Aug. J. Holtman, Trustees. Wm. Papenburg, Collector.

POWER PROPOSALS
APPROVED BY HULL

Iowa Representative
Calls Offer Highest
Yet Received

SAYS WAY OPEN
TO AID FARMERS

Three Conditions Are Necessary in Every
Bid, He Declares

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19—The proposal of a group of Southern power companies to operate the Muscle Shoals plant for 50 years for a rental of $100,000,000 was described as "the largest offer the government has ever received for the project" in a statement issued today by Representative Hull, republican, Iowa, who initiated the correspondence with the federal power commission, which resulted in the bid being made.

Declaring that the offer brings out for the first time "some actual facts as to the large money value to the people of the United States of the waterpower rights and privileges at Muscle Shoals," Mr. Hull expressed the hope the Secretary of War will immediately transmit it to congress.

The proposal, he said, clears the way for "production of a constant and large supply of cheap fertilizers for the benefit of the farmers of the country and if congress accepts it, the hydro-electric energy from the South's greatest natural resource, Muscle Shoals, will be equitably distributed all over the South, where it belongs."

Asserting that his mind is open as to the best disposition of the government's vast interests at Muscle Shoals Mr. Hull outlined three conditions that he regarded as essential to entitle any proposition to receive consideration.

That "must protect for all-time the government's interest in natural preparedness" and second, "the farmers' interests in the conservation of soil from the production of nitrate in peace times" and third, "must provide for the completion of Dam No. 3 within a reasonable time, so that river transportation on the Tennessee river can be inaugurated."

When the government has secured "these three essentials," he said, "it should then accept the best financial offer it receives."

PASTOR OPENS HIS VINDICATION FIGHT

(Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 19—Backed by clergymen of the western suburbs and the trustees of his own church, the Rev. Carl D. Case, pastor of the First Baptist church of Oak Park, today launched his fight for vindication of his name, mentioned in the divorce suit of Albert R. Leland against his wife, Charlotte C. Leland. His attorney, Frederick A. Brown, was appointed a friend of the court by Superior Judge Foell to intervene in the divorce suit.

The pastor's friend and his attorney declare he will be completely cleared of the charges made by Mr. Leland who testified his wife had confessed she was in love with the minister.

Paving Program Is Getting Under Way

The Independent Construction company, of Birmingham, has begun its paving program, as agreed upon some time ago. The work was begun on eighth avenue, the avenue that extends north and south and on which stands the Westminster Presbyterian church. The work of grading is now in progress with the expectation that the stone foundation will begin to be laid during next week.

Tells Kahn Offer
Still Is Standing

McKenzie Bill Satisfactory With Madden
Amendment He Says, But Other
Amendments Are Asked

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19—Henry Ford today notified Chairman Kahn, of the House Military Committee, that his offer for Muscle Shoals "still stands."

The McKenzie bill, which would authorize acceptance of his bid, was said by the Detroit manufacturer to be satisfactory, if the Madden amendment, which provides for replacement of the Gorgas steam plant, is adopted.

He precipitated, however, several other amendments and he was assured by Mr. Kahn they would be given "every consideration" when the committee resumed its study of the Muscle Shoals problems next Tuesday.

JOLLY ELECTED TO THE ALBANY COUNCIL

A largely attended meeting of the Albany city council was held at the city hall Friday night, when a large volume of routine business was transacted and in addition one new councilman elected and the resignation of another councilman was accepted.

The newly elected alderman is Alvin S. Jolly, of West Albany, who to take the place of E. D. Berry resigned. The alderman who resigned was C. E. Abel, of West Albany, who was elected some several months ago to take the place of E. D. Berry resigned.

The election of Mr. Jolly was unanimous, but the resignation of Mr. Abel was objected to, one alderman, J. W. McCall voting against the motion to accept the resignation. In answer to protests against his resignation, Mr. Abel said he wished it understood he still had the interests of the city at heart, but that he felt it best to resign. It was generally agreed near the close of the council meeting, which came soon after the acceptance of Mr. Abel's resignation, that by the next regular meeting two weeks hence the vacancy be filled. It was directed that Clerk Hartung should write T. Frank Lewis at the Tri-Cities for a definite answer as to whether or not he will return soon to his home here.

The council meeting was called to order by C. E. Sitterson, its president, with the following aldermen in their places, T. G. Crane, J. W. McCall, Cliff Chunn, L. R. Yarbrough, C. E. Abel and G. W. Norwood.

Dr. H. C. McRee, county health officer, urged the council to pass a certain health ordinance, which has been held under advisement, the request being referred to the proper committee. Dr. McRee declared that precautions should be taken against malaria, and typhoid fever. The request of Mrs. Wessie Boggs for a ferry franchise was presented by Col. Tennis Tidwell, and Hon. S. A. Lynne, but the matter was deferred. On motion of alderman Chunn, the completed paving work on 6th avenue was accepted.

O. H. Berger of Birmingham submitted a bid in behalf of the Pittsburgh Testing company, offering to make tests of the paving soon to be placed on a number of streets and avenues of the city. A similar offer was made by the Birmingham Testing company. No action was taken on either bid. $1,680.00 was ordered paid for resurfacing work on a number of the principal streets. A widow was allowed privilege tax exemption on a small stock of merchandise. Request that the city pay license tax on an automobile belonging to Elmo Hartselle of the fire department, on the ground the city used the machine to reach some fires, and for the policeman was referred to the finance committee. Street Commissioner Pettey was allowed certain repair work on two of the city's garbage wagons and a new flashlight.

In a telegram to Chairman Kahn, Mr. Ford specified that the McKenzie bill should be amended to provide a substitute steam plant at or near Lock 17 on the Black Warrior river, and the government include in the property sold to him a strip of land 100 feet wide to serve as a right of way between this proposed power plant and nitrate plant No. 2 at Muscle Shoals with a connection to Waco quarry, near Russellville, Ala.

Announcement by Mr. Ford that he still desires to lease the Muscle Shoals properties served to clarify the situation as far as the military committee is concerned.

With a number of members pressing for speedy action on legislation providing for disposition of the project, others had insisted that congress had no way of telling whether Mr. Ford's offer still stood good.

When the committee meets next Tuesday it will pass on the renewed Ford proposal, as well as the offer submitted by a number of Southern power companies for the project.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19—A sabbath quietude settled upon congress again today like a calm before the storm. In the distance there were many prophetic rumblings, House members prepared for a new set to next week over Muscle Shoals, after Henry Ford had telegraphed that his much debated offer still stands.

The senate was not in session and the house spent most of today on dry and complicated details of the interior appropriation bill and many of the committee at both ends of the capital were in recess over the week end.

The ways and means committee wound-up its public tax hearing and laid its lines for the real right over the Mellon plan. The one bit of color given the dull proceedings on the house side was contributed by Representative Sherwood of Ohio, 88 years old, who told his colleagues that the country must be saved from a system of prohibition enforcement which, he said, was fast becoming a menace to society.

W. C. T. U. Worker
Goes to Magic City

Mrs. Maud B. Perkins, of New York Young People's Secretary of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, was here today enroute to Birmingham where she will lecture on "Law Enforcement."

From the Magic City, Mrs. Perkins will go to Tuscaloosa, continuing her tour of the state.

The temperance worker spoke in Huntsville Friday night to a large audience. On Thursday night Mrs. Perkins addressed an appreciative audience here at the Central Methodist church.

GOVERNOR OF TEXAS
REVERSES POSITION

Permission Granted to President Obregon
by Davidson

TROOPS TO ENTER
U. S. AT EL PASO

Obregon Modifies His Plan to Cross the Rio Grande

(Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 19—Acting governor T. W. Davidson today granted permission in the request of President Obregon, of Mexico, for permission to transport troops across Texas soil, reversing his decision of Friday at urgent request of Secretary of State Hughes.

In a telegram to Washington, Acting Governor Davidson said 2,000 Mexican troops would be permitted to enter Texas at El Paso, provided the American government assumed all responsibility for any damages resulting.

Obregon modified his request by asking his troops be permitted to enter the United States at El Paso and go into Mexico at that point, instead of at Laredo, as was originally proposed.

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 19—The last three days have seen considerable fighting at different points within the quadrilateral formed by the railway lines extending from Puebla to Tehuacan thence to Esperanza, to San Marcos and to Puebla.

The main federal column, under General Martinez, is still holding Tehuacan, although cut off from Puebla. However, the road has been cleared of rebels by General Urbalejo, who at present is at Teacapulco, midway between Puebla and Tehuacan. General Urbalejo is endeavoring to repair the greatly damaged railway so as to reach Tehuacan and reinforce General Almazan, whose cavalry forces, ordered to advance upon Esperanza, have reached Miahuatlan.

Almazan has been fighting for two days in the vicinity of Miahuatlan, where the rebels succeed in cutting him off from Tehuacan. Meanwhile the rebels approached San Marcos for the purpose of recapturing that important junction, but immediately withdrew toward Esperanza when warned of Almazan's presence in the region of Miahuatlan.

Local Party Off
for Trip to Texas

Under direction of W. H. Leslie, of Decatur, a large company of citizens from the Tennessee Valley left on the west bound Southern train Saturday for Southern Texas, for a several days visit to the citrus growing sections along the Rio Grande river.

Early in February a similar party will go to south Texas from this section under the direction of Mr. Leslie. Twenty-nine people took the train here 15 at Huntsville, fifteen from Hartselle, and about a dozen were signed up to go from the Tri-Cities.

57 Vaccinated by
the Health Officer

During a strenuous days labor Friday, Morgan County health officer, Dr. H. C. McRee vaccinated an even fifty persons near Centre Grove in the south end of the county. A sixteen year old boy who has the smallpox, recently spent the night in the same room with one of his little brothers, and when the fact became known considerable alarm was felt lest the disease spread. Dr. McRee is keeping the names of those vaccinated with the intention of watching future results.

All peace is expensive, but peace at any price
is too dear.

The next invention as regards sound, should be a device to soften the voice of all except pretty girls.

The citizens of the county, now that taxes are increasing, are going to expect better things for the county roads in the future than have been endured in the past.

Because the pro-Fordites say less than they used to it is no sign they are not still for the Detroit man's bid. They are only suffering from that sickness that always follows "hope long deferred."

Conscious effort to be funny always carries with it its own limitations. For instance, what is more unacceptable than to hear a child sing or whistle, when it is clear he is thinking how cute
he is.

Beginning with the roads that lead in and out of these cities: Prominent business men say the roads leading out of the cities, even where they are fairly good, are so narrow that it is extremely difficult for automobiles and other vehicles to pass each other. Business men complain that "there is no way to get out."

THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE HARTSELLE CONFERENCE SHOULD BE FILLED

Benjamin Franklin, than whom there was never more able editor or more patriotic American, used to show the folly of those who opposed the adoption of the federal constitution, by displaying the cartoon of the serpent, all broken up into joints.
It became plain to those who saw Franklin's broken serpent that although serpents were considered wise, they could not accomplish their purposes if all broken to pieces.

To the people of Morgan county it should be,
and doubtless is, as clear as the noonday sun in fair weather, that a federation of all the interests of the county must be gone into if profitable purposes are to be accomplished in the future.

It was this kind of a truth the members of the county-wide conference had in mind during their deliberations Thursday.

By their recommendations the members of the conference say to the farmers and all consumers of farm products, in effect, what Benjamin Franklin said to our Revolutionary forefathers when following their triumph over England, they halted between two opinions as to whether or not they would form one strong government, or break up into thirteen weak states. As Franklin made it plain enough to the people of his time that they should join hands, to get them to do so;
without controversy, it should now be plain to the people of Morgan county that they should stand together, work together and enjoy the fruits of their labors together.

The conference has made certain recommendations—known in detail to all or practically all, who read the Albany-Decatur Daily, so it is unnecessary to repeat the recommendations and plans.
One thing is certain, that by all means the entire county should join heart and in carrying out of the recommendations of the Hartselle convention.

Provided, always of course, no better plans are made and put before the people.

WHERE STEEL

GOES

Even before "business barometers" had multiplied to their present bewildering number and variety the production of iron and steel was regarded by economists and business men as one of the principal indices to business activity. It is still considered as important an index as it ever was. For the iron and steel industry thrives only on "derived demand;" it is active in proportion as other industries are active.

In 1923 the country's pig iron production was the largest for any year on record, and steel production was in proportion. What industries were chiefly responsible for this, and in what proportions were they buyers?

On the basis of reports from 73 1-2 per cent of the industry the Iron Pipe Trade Review has made some interesting calculations. Of the steel shipped by American mills during the year nearly 31
per cent went directly or indirectly into railroad production consumption. Total shipments of structural steel, used chiefly in buildings and bridges, comprised 15 3-4 per cent of all the steel shipped during the year. Consumption of steel for the production and transportation of oil, gas and water, not including pipe in buildings, took nearly 11 per cent. Requirements for the automobiles, motor trucks and tractors took more than 10 per cent.

Exports accounted for 6 1-4 per cent of steel shipments made during the year. Machinery and tool requirements took 2 1-2 per cent, street railways 1 1-2 per cent, mining and lumbering about 1 per cent. The low state of the shipbuilding industry is shown by the fact that it took less than 1 per cent of entire steel output.—New York Herald.

A Train Of Thoughts For the Sabbath and Other Days

By J. E. Blair

God's will, as expressed through Moses, will be the theme of thousands of Sunday school teachers Sunday. The answer as to why God could express Himself through Moses is: Moses was a good deal like God. Ergo, if teachers had others really desire to be used of God—except as examples of what havoc evil can cause—they had better become Godlike. It is said of God that the cry of the oppressed Children of Israel reached His ears. Moses heard and heeded their cry. Do the cries of the oppressed reach your ears? God heard the groanings of the oppressed. Moses heard them. Do you? Egyptian injustice moved God to action. It moved Moses to action. Does American injustice move you to action? Stating Moses likened to God in another way—just as God detected a lack of harmony in "the music of the spheres," so did great Moses. Moses knew sin had thrown the harp of life out of tune. He knew that love needed to take up the harp of life and to smite on all its cords with might. It was a misguided love that caused Moses to use might
and to slay "the Egyptian"—the one who mistreated a fellow being. Because Moses knew sin was creating discord as well; but in that he "chose rather to suffer affliction with the people of God than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season" shows Moses had Godlike wisdom. Moses knew that the fear of sin is a good beginning for the wisdom "unto salvation."

Once more, Moses could express God's will because he was WHAT he was. We have a "who's who" book, but few men like Moses are in it.
WHO Moses was is of small importance, except to teach WHAT he became—earth's greatest personality save Christ Himself. To start with, Moses was a wee slave baby, with nothing between him and a martyr death except the whim of a pretty woman, and his good looks.

But step by step, led of God, Moses ascended to the heights, until one day on Sinai God used Moses' mighty intellect to disseminate the greatest ideas on right and wrong ever known, except those expressed by Christ Himself. And the Savior valued what God was able to express through Moses to the extent that He declared that not one jot nor one tittle should depart from it.
People who like display of power stress how Moses led a slave nation out of Egypt "with a high hand," but very few people say Moses filled the full measure of his greatness in the Ten Commandments. Until a greater than Moses leads against them, the gates of hell will not prevail against the Ten Commandments. To sum up, God could express Himself through Moses because that hero was "transparent," so to speak, because he was a "goodly child," a sympathetic youth, a busy man and a great old man. Also because Moses chose to express himself in ideas rather than just in brick walls, as his slave brethren did; because Moses had a keen sense of justice and had the courage of his convictions; because he could wait 80 years for a divine commission; because he saw God in the burning bush, and finally because Moses followed God, with his Maker made him a lonely grave on the edge of the Promised Land.

STEAMER'S S. O. S. CALL FOR DOCTOR IN MID-OCEAN.

When the steamer Ambridge, outbound from New York, was about 600 miles south of St. Helena she cut a wireless call for help. The steamer Lowestoft, which was nearby, answered that she had a doctor on board. Boatswain Nevins had been stricken with appendicitis. He is shown being transferred to the Lowestoft, on which he was operated upon, and later transferred to the hospital at St. Helena.

INSANITY INCREASES

IN IRELAND

DUBLIN—The problem of the insane in Ireland is demanding attention.
In 1851 with a population of 6,552-385 there were 9,980 persons certified as insane. In 1921 with a population of 4,390,000 there were 28,437 lunatics.
The proportion of insane to the total population has increased in 70 years from 1 in 667 to 1 in 154. It is believed, however, that the comparison is less serious than it looks and that some part of the increase, though not all of it, is due to more stringent modern methods of estimating insanity for statistical purposes.

Berlin Train Rides Cheaper and More Comfortable Than Homes

BERLIN—Since cold weather came in with a blast many Berliners have found it much cheaper to ride back and forth in the suburban trains than to sit at home in the evening. Holders of monthly tickets may ride as often as they care to on the government owned steam lines which run all about the city.

Officials attribute the increased night
travel to the fact that many men and women find coal and gas or electricity too expensive these days
and spend the evenings comfortably
in heated, well lighted cars reading their favorite books.

R. L. Brown, formerly a well known newspaper man of the Twin Cities, now a resident of Mississippi, has been elected secretary of the senate in that state. Mississippi, has been elected secretary of the senate in that state.
Mississippi newspapers have had many pleasant things to say of him. Recently The Jackson News said:

R. L. Brown, new secretary of the senate is an old time at the legislative game. Going back a quarter of a century he is found starting his political career at the age of 11 as a page in the Alabama Senate.

And since that time he has been intimately connected with legislatures in Alabama and Mississippi, although he has never been a member of either.

He had other newspaper connections
before he came to Mississippi in 1924
as secretary of the Humphreys County Campaign committee. As secretary of that committee he was the power that engineered the passage of the bill creating the new county. At various other times he has been in Jackson when the legislature was in session assisting in creating sentiment for the passage of a number of bills, most of which were of benefit to the delta section.

For the past several years Brown
has been editor of three newspapers—
the Tutwiler Times, the Marks Leader and the Sumner Sentinel at Sumner.
He is also secretary of the Mississippi Press Association that honor, having been conferred upon him at the annual meeting held in 1923 in Mobile, Ala., with the Alabama Press association. Another claim he has to distinction is that he managed the campaign of Lieutenant Governor-elect Dennis Murphree. He and Mr. Murphree have been close personal friends for a number of years, and Mr. Brown spent far more time working for his friend than he did in caring for his own business.

Brown is a native of Alabama, having been born 36 years ago at Cullman. He is a widower, but has two charming daughters, ages 11 and 5.

The Clarion, published at Jackson,
says:

When an experienced newspaper man turns his hand to some other profession, he generally makes good by a wide margin. And when he delves into the realms of politics, he shows almost invariably that he is the direct descendant of the fellows who invented that game. R. L. Brown, now secretary of the senate is the latest to prove the rule. Oldtimer in the newspaper field, he is at the same time one of the really experienced "politickers" of the present legislature. He started his political career when he was only eleven years old, as a page in the Alabama legislature and continually since that time he has had a finger—sometimes the whole hand—in the political pot of either Alabama or Mississippi, and always on the constructive, progressive side. Brown is widely known and respected—this despite the fact he is editor of three different newspapers,
the Tutwiler, the Marks Leader and the Sumner Sentinel. He is secretary of the Mississippi Press association and during the late campaign was campaign manager for Lieutenant-Governor Dennis Murphree.—Jackson
Clarion.

ONE MARINE FROM MORGAN IN 1923

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 19.—The United States Marine Corps with its happy combination of service both on land
and at sea, its free courses of study, was the selection of young men of Morgan County during 1923, when during the 12 months of the year, more than 10 applications were made by young men from that section of Alabama, was the announcement made today by Captain C. A. Wynn, USMC, in charge of recruiting for the soldiers of the sea in the States of Alabama,
Georgia, Florida, Tennessee and South Carolina, with headquarters in the Federal Building in this city.

According to the statistics for 1923
more than 10 young men of Morgan county made application during the year, however, only 1 was accepted,
the rest being rejected because of not being up to the standards as to height, weight, age, etc., as required of all men who wish to enter the ranks of the sea soldiers, Morgan County has always been well represented in the Marines during the world war, young men from that section literally flocked to the colors, sacrificing their services regardless of position wealth and a lucrative future, they later helped the Marines to gain a niche in the hall of immortal deeds at the battle of Belleau Woods. Captain Wynn stated that while no special recruiting drives had been staged during 1923,

the Southeastern District was at all times leader in the Southern Recruiting Division, for the number of enlistments, recorded each month. He said the reason why so many entered the corps was because of the unlimited opportunities for travel, adventure and study, and backed up his statement by displaying letters from young Southerners now stationed in all parts of the world. The total number of applications made in 1923 in the District was over 2,000 of which 545 were finally accepted for service. The following young man from Morgan County enlisted during 1923—Hubert C. Blackberry, son of Mrs. Carrie Blackberry of Hartselle, Ala.

Boys Feed Unfortunate Mates

GERA—Boys of well-to-do families are being urged by their school teachers to aid their more unfortunate school mates. The teachers have asked the boys to bring a breakfast to school each morning so that the boys who have had none may be fed.

There is a difference in feeds. We've been in the feed business long enough to know that. Some Cow Feeds are made from only two or three ingredients.

Other feeds contain a wide variety of ingredients, but sometimes these are not in correct proportions.

Happy Cow Feed contains six milk-making ingredients. These are blended in just the right proportions.

We are more than feed dealers. We are feed specialists. Bring your

MY HUSBAND'S LOVE

Adele Garrison's New Phase of Revelations of a Wife

Lillian and Madge Compared Notes.

LILLIAN rose, and clapping both hands over her heart, made a sweeping bow to my mother-in-law. "It was meant as a burlesque, and intended to draw a smile from the saddened elder woman, but I knew that in it there was the essence of a sincere and reverential salute, Lillian, more than most women, enjoys a strategic campaign of any sort, and I know that the plan Dicky's mother had just outlined for the managing of her daughter, Harriet Braithwaite, had appealed strongly to my friend's sense of the dramatic."

And there ARE people who do not believe in reincarnation. Oh, Madame Machiavelli! she intoned. "Get along with you," my mother-in-law retorted, but I knew by several little signs that she was pleased with the flattery.

"Now, Margaret," Mother Graham turned to me briskly, "you see why the sleeping quarters of the children must be arranged with no apparent consideration of Harriet. For the few days they are here I'm going to have Mary and little Roderick in my room—that extension day-bed is very comfortable—and the two other boys I'm going to put into the sewing room, which, as you know, has a door opening into mine. The room is all ready except for the bed, and Jim can move that other extension day-bed from down the hall into it. Then I shall have the children right with me, and for all Harriet knows, I shall expect to keep them always. If you'll go down and have Jim come up—soon as he's finished with those chickens, I mean."

Things to Plan. It was unlike my mother-in-law to consider the convenience of either Jim or Katie when she wished any task performed, but I knew that not for worlds would she present to her daughter's eyes the picture of anything save a smoothly running domestic machine. And she meant to take no chance of throwing a monkey-wrench into the machinery by upsetting the temperamental Katie's equilibrium.

"Are you sure you'll be all right while I'm gone, Mother?" I asked anxiously, for her fine old face looked pitifully, with against the cushion of her high-backed chair.

"Of course," she said, "I'll be all right. I've got a lot of things to plan out and mull over, and I'm very comfortable here by the fire. I walked reluctantly to the door, and paused hesitatingly with my hand on the doorknob. She flashed an inquiring, impatient glance at me, and then her eyes softened, although

WORSHIP

By Juanita Hamel

DOGS are faithful to their masters, little masters are soulful slaves to "beautiful" ladies whom they'd like to carry off as did the knights of old—if only they were grown—and ladies dream of "little boys grown tall." We all worship something—perhaps the moon, or the stars, or the sun, God or nature, people or ideals—it does not matter. For if it weren't for that worship—that exaltation of the spirit—most of us would walk with our heads down and our eyes cast to the earth. We'd never see the blue sky and not a bit of beauty.

WINIFRED BLACK TELLS US ABOUT A Little Sister of the Rich

Copyright, 1924, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Winifred Black

ETHEL is a little sister to the rich—I'm afraid there's no doubt of it.

She really is.

And it's a pity—poor Ethel, she used to be such a nice girl.

A trifle light-headed and a bit vain and self-centered, but as bright as a dollar, as quick as a wink, and as kind as kind could be.

Ambitious, too, always wanting to go away to college and get a taste of the "higher education." But her mother was ill and Ethel stayed at home and took care of her.

Something of a musician in a quiet way—read a lot, and decorative art—dear me, how Ethel could dress up a room!

She'd take an old dotted muslin dress of her mother's, and a few beads, and some water color paints, and an old bureau, and a wooden chair, and before you knew it the room would look like a dream.

Ethel has a fine taste in dress. She can see an imported model in the window, give it a look or two, go home, and make one exactly like it for just about one-fourth the cost of the original; and she can wear it with an air, too.

And, if you were ill, Ethel was always a darling. She'd come and sit with you, tell you the pleasant gossip of your little circle of friends or read to you; and she'd bring you little nosegays out of her own garden—yes, Ethel really was a good deal of a dear.

And now she's a "little sister to the rich"—and that's all.

The Ungrateful Rich!

She caught the disease of "richitis" when she was third or fourth assistant in the rainbow booth at a smart charity bazaar.

And now she doesn't know a soul but rich people—not a soul. Unless they're very distinguished or very much "in society."

She's forgotten all her old simple friends and she does hope that they've forgotten her; poor soul. The only trouble is the rich people she knows can't seem to remember her name—they never know her again when they meet her—and after she's been so nice and obliging, and carried their poodles home for them, run errands, taken snubs and everything.

They're really awfully ungrateful, it seems to me. But then why should you be grateful—if you're rich?

Ethel has left her real world behind her, the real world of friendly, affectionate, loving interest, and she's trying to breathe in an element where she's as much out of her own place as a fish is out of water on land.

And she pretends to camouflage and fibs and works and schemes and plans to get invitations here and bids there.

And if she's forgotten at a certain party she cries for hours. The other day she drove her husband and children all out of the house and said she was going to kill herself, and nobody could

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I met a man last Summer when I spent my vacation and, finally, we became engaged. I didn't tell him I had been married and divorced because he made a remark about divorced people which caused me to keep still on the subject.

I love him dearly and would hate to lose him. He also loves me, as I can tell by his actions as well as by his words. I do not mean he makes love to me, but he does things that he knows will make me happy, and I also try to please him.

Several times last Summer I intended to tell him, but each time I lost courage at the last minute. We seem to agree on all subjects but this, and maybe he might not find it out, but—maybe he might, and what then? Each one in my family seems to take a different view of it. Some say "Tell him," some say "Don't." I love him too well to lose him by telling him this. Please advise me what to do.

BLOSSOM: Tell your fiancé, by all means. He will find it out in time, and is very apt to exaggerate the importance of this phase of your life because you kept it a secret. If he truly loves you, he will not let it interfere. I hope that you will be very happy.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: I am a girl in my teens. I have been going with a young man two years my senior. He loves me dearly, but I do not care for him. I hate to tell him because it would break his heart. My parents like him and want me to like him.

Please advise me what to do.

BARBARA: Perhaps it will be wise for you to continue the friendship of the young man a while longer. You are very young and should not think seriously of any one just yet. Go out with your other friends too, and do not worry about this problem until the young man proposes—if he ever does. If you then, think of him only as a friend.

Annie Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper and will reply to them in these columns. Letters to Miss Laurie should be addressed to her, in care of this office.

YOUR HEALTH

Do Hard Work Every Day If You Would Sleep Well

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

"HARD work makes a soft bed!"

So I read the other day. An interesting character in a book was made to say this. Think it over! Isn't it true?

Sleeplessness is one of the most trying of all human experiences. One form of torture is to keep its victim from sleep. Nothing in the "Third Degree" can be more productive of results than this.

Pampered people are fussy about their food and about their beds. I never heard my father utter a fault-finding word about his food. I asked him once if all foods tasted alike to him. "Certainly not," he replied "but if you had the memory I have of two years on the plains and in the mountains you would count any of the food you get, even on an off day, as among the delicacies."

He crossed the plains in '59 to "Pike's Peak or Bust." Ox team and distance do not make for variety in meals or excellence in cooking. Life in a Colorado camp in those days did not include restaurants catered to by French chefs.

The memory of the dreadful cooking of that long ago has never faded from his mind. By the simple process of recalling his own cooking Mother's seems perfection.

Hard work, too, gives appetite for wholesome food. Since digestion waits on appetite, work aids digestion. It is the best of tonics.

There can be no better prescription for the sleepless than daily indulgence in hard work. If you are tired with the honest-to-goodness, well-earned and legitimate tiredness which comes from actual labor, then you can sleep. You won't ask for over-stuffed mattresses or a downy couch. You will find that any place upon which to stretch your weary frame is a good spot to sleep. Hard work makes a soft bed.

It is a pity that many, many persons neglect the privilege of hard work. They hold aloof from it, either from pride or from sheer laziness. They are fastidious because of late hours and continual idea of sleep. They are poisoned from bad air or from over-eating, or both. But they are never tired, really, generally from the play of muscles, from long miles walked, or from actual manual labor.

If you cannot sleep, make a survey of your life and see if it is not because of the lack of muscular effort. To take strain off the kidneys the skin must work unceasingly. To keep the blood pure, the tissues clean and the brain clear there must be physical exercise. Without it, waste products of the body are not carried away as they should be.

If you are not sleeping well, if your bed seems hard and lumpy and uncomfortable, if you get up more tired than when you went to bed, try a stiff dose of hard work.

Answers to Health Questions.

M. M. Q.—Will you kindly tell me what causes electricity in the hair?

A.—This is usually due to dry hair, or to the use of a rubber comb.

A READER Q.—Will you kindly tell me what exercises to do to develop the calf of my leg?

A.—Rising on the toes and heels, alternately, for fifteen minutes will tend to develop your legs. Do this exercise every morning and night.

D. S. Q.—Will you kindly advise me as to how I can reduce a double chin?

A.—Massage the double chin with cocoa butter, using an upward and outward motion, to help reduce the chin.

B. B. Q.—Will you kindly advise me how to improve the growth of the eyelashes?

A.—Apply vasoline lightly to the eyelashes to stimulate their growth.

A TRADESMAN Q.—My finger nails are black and appear to be decayed. Will you kindly advise me how to treat them?

A.—Consult a surgeon or apply at a hospital clinic, and if necessary have the nails removed and treatment given.

M. M. D. Q.—Will you kindly advise me whether enlarged tonsils affect the voice? Is the operation dangerous?

A.—Yes; enlarged tonsils do affect the voice. It is not always necessary to have enlarged tonsils removed. X-ray treatment by a throat specialist has proved helpful in cases such as yours.

ANXIOUS Q.—Is there any danger of contagion in living with a person who has a chronic case of appendicitis? Is any kind of appendicitis contagious?

A.—There is no danger of contagion in living with a person who has a chronic case of appendicitis. Appendicitis is not contagious.

MRS. E. A. Q.—My hair is turning gray and is inclined to have a yellow appearance. Will you kindly tell me how to make it white?

A.—This is a natural condition, therefore nothing can be done to correct it.

ODD FACTS

Soapstone is a kind of rock ranging in color from bluish gray to green. Chemically it is composed of hydrous silicate mineral salt mixed with other elements. Some soapstone is quite soft, being readily cut with a knife, but it is the harder kind which is used for griddles, sink-lining and firebricks.

Such soapstone usually comes from North Carolina or Virginia. A soapstone griddle may be used almost the same as any other kind of griddle. The stone will not be affected by grease, nor will the food be in any way damaged. Soapstone was so named because of the soapy appearance of the rock.

Bantu tribesmen in the Belgian Congo use cattle as a medium of exchange. This does not mean to imply, however, that the cattle is in bits like our currency. It is "money" in the sense that it is greatly desired by the natives and therefore always in demand for trading.

Without possessions, Canada's area is 3,750,000 square miles and that of the United States 3,055,785.

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

SUNDAY AND MONDAY, JANUARY 20-21.

Sunday's horoscope holds augury for important change, which should eventually bring benefits, but at the same time there are menacing conditions both in business and other affairs. Discretion is admonished in all matters.

Those whose birthday it is have the forecast of an important change of advantage, but they should be on guard against all manner of pitfalls and dangers. A child born on this day needs careful training, lest he be too fond of change and travel.

The Monday's astrological chart points out hazards and complications, although in a minor degree. With care in the handling of finances this danger may be avoided and perplexities may be unraveled by quiet deliberation. Less annoying conditions should prevail in heart and home affairs.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter some perplexities and complications which good judgment and wise manipulation of money may untangle. Domestic and affectional matters are more harmonious. A child born on this day may have an unsettled career unless it is carefully trained early in life.

Diary of a Fashion Model

By GRACE THORNCIFFE

She Describes a Wrap Any Woman Would Enjoy Wearing.

"I WISH Madame didn't make such attractive wraps for evening," Gaby said today.

"Why?" I asked.

"Because I'd love to see one or two left over sometime," admitted the honest Gaby.

"And maybe you'd get one at a bargain," I asked.

"You've guessed my secret," she admitted.

"You old schemer," I said reprovingly. "Didn't you know Madame's wraps are so attractive that some one always comes in and buys the original model before the season is over?"

"Much to my sorrow, I do know it," Gaby said.

Silver Fox Provides the Collar for This Green Chiffon Velvet Wrap.

"Besides, I could never afford even the marked-down price of Madame's wraps," she added.

"Why not make one?" I suggested.

"Do you think I could?" Gaby asked.

"Certainly," I answered.

"That's what I wanted you to say," she admitted. "Because I saw one that I believe I could copy, with care."

"What was it?" I asked.

"A most delicate green velvet," Gaby answered.

"I mean how was it made?" I explained.

"I'll have to sketch it," said Gaby, reaching for pencil and pad, which are always handy at Madame's because someone is always moved to sketch a new idea or something attractive, she's sure.

"It might be a bit tedious to make because of all the puffs," Gaby said as she drew.

"Puffs?" I queried.

"The green velvet was corded in rows about six inches apart, so that the parts in between made puffs," she explained.

"Then there was a bias piece which finished the hem and extended up the front, narrowing as it reached the neck," she explained.

"That wrap sounds beautiful, but not too easy to make, and I should love it," Gaby returned.

"What about the collar?" I asked.

"I have to buy a strip of silver fox for that," she answered.

"Well, make it quickly, so you can get wear out of it for the rest of the winter," I advised.

"I can wear it well into the Spring, too," Gaby said. "Spring nights are cool enough to call for a fairly heavy wrap, and chiffon velvet is so lovely it doesn't seem out of place in the Spring."

She decided on a lovely light apple green for the velvet.

ROGERS HEIRESS SECRETLY WEDS COUNT.

Countess Salm von Hoogstraten.

Miss Mary Millicent Rogers, beautiful twenty-year-old daughter of Colonel and Mrs. H. H. Rogers, of New York, and heiress to the $40,000,000 estate of her late grandfather, H. H. Rogers, Standard Oil magnate, has been secretly married in the Municipal Building, New York, to Count Ludwig Salm von Hoogstraten, Austrian nobleman, who fought in one of the crack Austrian cavalry regiments in the World War. The marriage was a complete surprise to her parents. The Count, who is 33, was divorced in 1912 from Baroness Frankenthal.

Friday Thirteen, Mrs. B. P. Wallace. Canal Street Rook Club, Mrs. J. B. Cassells.

MRS. BALLAS HOSTESS AT ROOK.

Mrs. Marie Pappos, of Chattanooga, Tenn., was a guest of honor on Thursday, when her hostess, Mrs. Ellen Ballas, entertained at rook at her home on Canal Street. Gift flowers adorned the lovely living and dining rooms.

After spirited games of rook played at two tables a delicious raised course was served.

Included in this hospitality were Mrs. John D. Wyker, Mrs. F. S. Hunt, Mrs. Elwood Hewlett, Mrs. Will Wyker, Mrs. Philip Humphrey, Mrs. J. B. Cassells, Mrs. S. W. Irwin and the honoree.

A trophy for highest score was given Mrs. Hunt and this was a late book. Mrs. Wyker, senior, was awarded the booby prize and Mrs. Pappos was presented a memento of the delightful afternoon.

SOCIAL AT MRS. MCKELVEY'S.

The Class of Loyal Women of the First Christian Church met with Mrs. H. McKelvey on Thursday, January Seventeenth.

The object of the meeting was to enlarge the class and to make plans to secure more members. A contest was decided upon and two captains were elected, Mrs. Elmer Bussey, representing Division Number one and Mrs. Mac Brown to represent Division number two. The contest will close in December, the women of the winning side to be the guests of the women of the losing side at a banquet.

Two vocal selections by Herschel McKelvey were very much enjoyed and after this sandwiches and coffee were served by the hostess.

Mrs. J. R. Daniell has returned from a visit to her sister, Mrs. R. Taylor Rives, in Montgomery.

Mrs. J. L. Broadway will leave on Saturday for Little Rock, Ark., where she will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Cline.

Mrs. Clyde Hendrix will leave this afternoon for Florence to be present at the funeral of Mr. Hendrix's mother.

FRIDAY THIRTEEN.

The Friday Thirteen met this week with Mrs. John Knight when Mrs. J. L. Echols was the only guest. Mrs. Sydney Patterson made highest score receiving the club prize.

CANAL STREET ROOK CLUB.

Mrs. Will Wyker entertained the Canal Street Rook Club on Friday afternoon with Mrs. Bearden and Mrs. Gus Pappos of Chattanooga as guests. After the rook game the club prizes were awarded to Mrs. Humphrey and Mrs. Ballas, and the guest trophy to Mrs. Pappos.

A tempting salad course was served at the conclusion of the game.

MUSIC STUDY CLUB.

Mrs. H. Pulliam and Mrs. H. O. Troup will be hostesses to the Music Study club on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Troup.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Meyers, of Hattiesburg, Miss., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Thomas, having come to the bedside of his father, W. O. Dever, who suffered a stroke of paralysis on Tuesday.

Mrs. Pleas Wright has returned home from Atlanta, Ga., where she has been the guest of relatives.

Princess Fri. and Sat.

JOHNSON-STELL.

On Thursday afternoon, Miss Nellie Pearl Stell, of Fordice, Arkansas, and Mr. Joe Johnson, of the Flint community, were united in marriage at Flint, Rev. Osborne, pastor of the Methodist church of Flint, performing the ceremony.

A few friends and relatives gathered at the home of W. T. Johnson, father of the groom, where an enjoyable four o'clock dinner was served following the ceremony.

MRS. PICKENS COMPLIMENTED.

Mrs. J. L. Gunter was a charming hostess of Friday, entertaining in honor of Mrs. B. B. Pickens, who leaves in a few days to go to Birmingham, her future home. This farewell party was given as a luncheon, those present including members of the H. B. Luncheon Club and the Friday Luncheon Club, of which two clubs Mrs. Pickens is a member.

The Gunter home was effectively decorated, a pink and white color scheme being carried out in pink flowers, the electric lights were shaded with pink and the burning tapers were also pink. The dainty place cards bore handpainted roses and marked the places for the following: Mrs. Eugene Allison, Mrs. J. R. Chrissinger, Mrs. J. Sheets, Mrs. Maury, Mrs. C. V. Dupont, Miss Sabine Dupont, Mrs. W. R. Smith, Mrs. Sam Thompson, Mrs. H. T. Gill, Mrs. T. A. Bowles, Mrs. W. A. Bibb, Mrs. Georgia Miller, Mrs. Seneca Burr, Mrs. C. H. Eyster, Mrs. Marcia Bullard the honoree and hostess.

Mrs. H. T. Gill and Mrs. W. R. Smith received at the door with Mrs. Gunter and Mrs. Pickens.

EIGHTY-SIXTH BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Harvey entertained at a dinner on Friday evening complimenting their father, Dr. Sullivan, who was celebrating his eighty-sixth birthday.

The dining table was effectively decorated, the centerpiece being a silver basket of pink carnations. Covers were laid for the following: Major T. J. Williamson, Major Waldon, A. A. Hardage, Phil Humphrey, Milton Harvey and the guest of honor.

After dinner, spirited games of set back were enjoyed until a late hour, when upon departure, the guests wished Dr. Sullivan many more happy returns of the day.

Czechoslovakia depends upon its rivers and railroads for its transportation.

Athens News

Athens College did the community a great favor on Monday evening of this week the authorities brought Dr. A. M. Harding a noted lecturer and astronomer, to Athens, for his lecture on "Other World's than Ours." It was well attended and highly appreciated by the people of Athens.

The small son of Seburn Brown of Athens has been suffering for two weeks from poison and lockjaw as a result of the firing of a cap in one of the toy pistols sold during the holidays. It was thought at first that it would be impossible to save the life of the boy, but the community has taken great interest in the case and provided serum necessary and it is thought now that there is a chance for the little fellow. Dr. Beule is the attending physician. The people of the Cotton Mill supplied one treatment of the serum at a cost of about sixteen dollars. Two treatments have been furnished by the Kiwanis club, one by the Athens College girls, one by the Baptist church, one by the Methodist church and one by the doctors.

One of the most delightful occasions in Athens for a long time was the opening of the Governor Houston Home as a Kiwanis Club House on Tuesday evening of this week. The Kiwanis club has been a very active organization in the community for the last year. Some weeks ago they engaged the Houston home and leased it and great preparations have been made to make the place delightful for the Club. The building has been repaired inside and outside, painted papered, hardwood floors put in and every desired improvement. Every member of the club invites a lady for the meeting on Tuesday evening and a most delightful banquet was enjoyed by about one hundred persons at six o'clock. After the banquet, a well planned program was given consisting of addresses, readings, music and games. A resolution was offered by W. J. Howard that the Kiwanis club give at the end of this year a gold medal to the person of Athens who does the greatest amount of unselfish service for the community during the year. The music for the evening was furnished by Mrs. Armstrong and the orchestra of the Baptist church, directed by Jesse Boston.

WHERE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION WILL MEET.

In Madison Square Garden, New York City, the Democratic Party in June will meet in National Convention to select its Presidential candidate. This interior view shows the huge Garden, which will seat 20,000 persons during the convention, being prepared for a prize fight. It was on the roof of this garden that Harry K. Thaw murdered Stanford White.

New York
Letter
by Lucy Jeanné Price

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Six hundred and fifty dollars worth of food for one meal for 25 people. It seems considerable. And it speaks of affluence in no uncertain tones. After a few years in this city of restaurants, one cannot be surprised at learning the occupation of these thirty-dollar-a-plate dinner guests. They were waiters, the people who serve you while you try to find something filling and still have enough money left for the tip. This particular dinner, with 28 courses, was the annual affair of the "Millionaire Waiters' Club" of New York, in which membership is limited to those waiters who can prove that they have at some time served a millionaire or a prominent statesman. But I have an idea that the name of the club is derived from the bank accounts of its members themselves.

So many people have committed suicide here in the past few years by throwing themselves into one of the city reservoirs that the Water Supply Commissioner has asked the board of estimate to appropriate $82,000 for the erection of "man-proof fences" around them.

It is a strenuous age, indeed, when jails are sought as rest cures. Arthur Storer, forty-five years old and engaged in the practical trade of a butcher, asked the judge to send him to jail for eight years, saying he needed about that much rest. The magistrate regretted his inability to accommodate and unsightly gave him sixty days in the workhouse at the complaint of Storer's father, that his insistence upon stopping work amounted to disorderly conduct.

There are a good many tragedies in this crowded metropolis, but none of them seems to me more poignant than the case of William J. Sidis, who attracted the attention of the whole country fifteen years ago as the most remarkable boy prodigy of the age. In 1900, young Sidis, a rosy-cheeked boy of eleven, lectured before Harvard professors in terms of the fourth dimension and answered every question the astounded men could ask. He entered Harvard that year, having been reading from the age of two and was graduated with honors at sixteen. Today he is making $22 a week in a New York statistical office, where he earns an adding machine, having insisted that he didn't want any work that required him to think. He shows no interest in progress, in life, or even in his own family.

Thanks Extended
For Library Books

We gratefully acknowledge receipt of the following books, which have already been classified and installed in the new library.

SEIBERLING TIRES

All-Tread takes either truck or passenger car out of the rut, mud or sand with the added traction of its long-barred sidewall and tread.

It is "out of the rut" of similarity in which other tires have plowed for years—it is not simply a better tire, but a different and better KIND of tire.

You can see this at a glance—and its record of performances is just what you'd expect.

Carnival Gayeties of Canadian Winter Sport Centers
Lure Many Americans Across the Border Each Winter

GOING DOWN! SPEEDY TRAVELING BY TOBOGGANS ON QUEBEC'S SLIDE

Have you ever spent one of the white months in Canada? If not, there is still a delightful experience in store for you. Winter in Canada is synonymous with winter sports. With the advent of ice and snow these sports begin; skis, sleds, toboggans, skates, snowshoes, hockey and lacrosse clubs, together with warm, gay sport costumes, make their appearance. A psychological change takes place in the social atmosphere, merriment radiates its contagion, briskness characterizes all outdoor movement.

For many years Quebec and Montreal have been Mecca for a large number of American winter sport lovers, who flock to these two cities on the St. Lawrence during carnival seasons. There are many other Canadian points where organized sport is a winter feature. St. John has its skating tournament in which many professionals participate. Sherbrooke, Quebec, has planned an elaborate skiing contest and is providing some splendid trophies as awards.

Grey Rocks Inn, an all-the-year-round resort in the Laurentian Mountains, 85 miles northwest of Montreal, offers aeroplane-ski-joring in addition to many other winter sports. Winnipeg will set aside the week of February 4-11, for carnival festivities which are projected on a vast scale, in addition the great annual bonspiel, lasting several weeks, will be staged as usual. Banff in the Canadian Rockies, which is fast becoming as popular in winter as it has long been in summer, is planning to outdo former efforts. Winter sports are enjoyed there all through the white season and will culminate in a gay carnival lasting from Feb. 9 to 16, the last two days being devoted to a bonspiel. Dog races are a feature of Banff's winter season and famous teams from Le Pas will run at Banff. Le Pas will celebrate in carnival style from March 8 to 15, during which period the famous 200-mile non-stop dog-team race will be run. Revelstoke, a stronghold of ski-jumping, will stage contests Feb. 5th and 6th. Both Montreal and Quebec are making extraordinary preparations for this season's programs. Mount Royal, in the former, provides an unequalled playground where skiing, snowshoeing, bob-sledding and tobogganing may be enjoyed at their best. Skating contests, torchlight festivities on the Mountain and the presence of professional entertainers, provide amusement for Montrealers and visitors.

Quebec is really the Capital of Winter Sports in Canada, its Dufferin Terrace and Chateau Frontenac are names to conjure with among winter sport devotees all over Canada and the United States.

The three-track toboggan slide on the Terrace is generally the center of attraction and crowds line its sides to watch the swift flying toboggans. A fine ski-jump, a skating rink, indoor and outdoor curling, contests and parades by the many ski and snowshoe clubs fill every waking hour. A team of husky dogs with sleigh and driver in maintained by the Chateau management for the use of the public.

Quebec's carnival will end in a riot of excitement when the third Eastern International Dog-Team Derby is run there on Feb. 21, 22 and 23. Both American and Canadian teams to the number of about eighteen, will strive to win the Gold Cup, Silver Cup and $2,000 in prize money.

While for many years the average American car owner has looked up to the foreign built automobile as being the finest example of coach work and automobile production in the world the United States is now recognized as being the home of finer automobile creations than any other country may point to.

The Lincoln car is a typical example of this fact. It is the policy of this company to build the finest car that that tremendous resources of the Ford Motor Company will allow. This means that the finest of materials and engineering talent will go into the making of the Lincoln, and this fact is being recognized abroad, as well as in this country.

European manufacturers and engineers are beginning to come to America to get patent rights and body designs for their cars. Hardly a week passes but that the Lincoln factories in Detroit are visited by some of the leading foreign engineers. Practically every one of these visitors marvels at the manner in which the Lincoln is built and many express amazement at the fine manufacturing limits which it is possible to obtain in machine work.

The market in the United States for foreign built cars is slowly passing. Today the vast majority of the Americans are forsaking the European cars and turning to home made products. Patriotism alone is not responsible for this, as when a man buys an expensive priced car he buys for value, and the business man has been convinced that such value is built into the Lincoln.

One of the primary reasons why the European manufacturer cannot compete with the American manufacturer is that the field abroad for sales of higher priced cars is distinctly limited. They cannot afford to employ thousands of workmen and produce thousands of cars per year. They have not market for this number and as a result a great deal of the work is done by hand. American demand for large numbers of cars has taught us how to make better cars by machinery than Europe can turn out by hand.

In the same way styles in American coach work are far superior to those to foreign made cars. It is possible to compare foreign built and American products in motor car value and it can easily be seen that they are behind this country in styles.

All these factors combine to give value in the car made on this side of the Atlantic, at a low price. It is true that there are many excellent foreign built automobiles, but comparing them for appearance, value and cost with such a product as the Lincoln will show anyone how far superior American automobile manufacturers have become.
